Even getting an accurate toll is contentious, as a federal audit recently criticized how the Border Patrol could be undercounting border deaths, which doubled over 10 years to 472 in 2005, mostly in Arizona.").

Today, 12 million Mexican-born people live on the northern side of their nation's border. By 2050, Hispanics will represent 25% of the U.S. population, and 11% of all Mexicans will be living in the United States. These demographic shifts affect the policies, economies, and cultures of the neighboring nations, forcing them to evaluate the future of their binational relations.").
